The number one thing personal trainers and health coaches worry about?

Where they are going to find their next client.

It's what the entire business hinges on.

Sometimes we start to feel desperate and will do things like offer discounts, open our schedules to crazy times, or start paying for ads in hopes of finding the next $10,000 LTV client.

While those methods can work, they aren't always the best solution to grow your revenue.

Many trainers try to find the quick fix, without going after the low hanging fruit first.

In this PDF, I'm going to show you THREE unique methods you can organically & consistently use to have a full book either in-person or online, WITHOUT paid ads.*

*Paid ads definitely have their place. But go after the easy wins first, before spending money on ads.

With this guide, you are going to accomplish three things:

- 1) Generate quick wins to start building momentum (aka revenue!)
- 2) Develop a "money now" mindset
- 3) Create lead generation habits that will continue to grow your business!

Put these three methods into action, and I guarantee you will generate new income in your business and be on your way to a six figure income.

At the end of this guide, I have a special offer for you as well. Enjoy!

Method One: The Blunt Post

A blunt post is a clear, concise, and direct callout for your ideal client.

You can do this once every 2-3 weeks, but the cadence ultimately depends on how often you are posting on social media, how engaged your following is, and what you're offering.

The purpose of the blunt post is to quickly generate leads and add 3-5 clients to your services.

It can be used for both in-person and online.

The blunt post typically has three parts, each with a specific purpose:

- The 5-100 hook. Specifically state how many people you are looking for, the ONE type of person you want, and the quantifiable result you are offering
- Quick description of how you are going to coach them (to their specific result)
- Clear, concise Call to Action

Make sure the post is clean, on brand, and shows YOU. Although not a constant, having an eye-popping image tends to yield higher results. You want to STOP THE SCROLL!

Next, you want to qualify/disqualify prospects with a descriptive caption (feel free to use this script, and change the highlighted portions to speak to your specific niche and offer):

DM me the word [CIA Word] if we're a fit.

• You are motivated, [add qualifier/disqualifier] and want to [achieve niche-specific goal].

Ask a client about their friends & family members when they are feeling "uptight" (post workout, after a rough relation or after they send you a happy message)

Give them an idea of your availability, and let them know how best to reach you (after your phone number, email, etc.)

If you want to take it a step further, you can even give your current client their own post that they can use to refer to your services (this is especially helpful for your online clients).

Try this out tonight (casual):

I wanted to introduce you to my friend and coach, [Name Here]. He's legitimate (achieve a goal) and [achieve another goal]. And I know he could help you too.

So just let his know the best way to get in touch with you.

Fill in the form if you take it from here.

[Client's Name]

Although not 100% necessary, this can help lower the barrier for your clients to spread your brand to others, while also showing how dedicated you are to helping out their friends, family, coworkers, etc.

Another way to gain new clientele is to refer yourself back out to old clients (aka motivational).

This is generally the lowest hanging fruit you can go after.

As long as you're on a positive track, you can reactivate past clients with relative ease.

They have already paid you before, they know like, and trust you, and know what to expect with your coaching.

Send out messages (use the SPEAR format) to re-engage with previous clients and see how you can get them back on track.

This is another method that I have personally used to create THOUSANDS of dollars in revenue with ease.

ACTION PLAN For The Next 5 Days

1. Create a blunt post (or post 1) on your social media channels. Post as much value-packed content as possible beforehand. Cross-post in stories, and continue to promote it for 24-72hrs. Be prepared for the flood of new leads by having a DM script and CRM ready.
2. Send out SPEAR emails and/or DMs to any past connections. Make this a daily habit by setting aside dedicated time in your schedule to send out a specific amount, every day. Remember, you're not trying to sell them immediately. Just create conversation and connection. Offer up any value content you may have (PDFs, articles, workouts, recipes, etc.).
3. Approach your best clients with your available times on your schedule and specifically ASK for referrals. Tell them exactly who you are looking for and how to best create the first conversation with you. If nothing, give your best clients an easy-to-use script to help promote your services. With such situations, offer incentives on a thank-you (free session added to their package, discounted month online, etc.) and don't forget to follow-up.

ACTION PLAN

Be prepared for the success you're about to have in your business. Review the action plan above and be ready to create new connections and clientele. If you have any questions, feel free to personally email me at chris@5figurecoaching.com or check reading below for the special offer!

Chris Shipp

Founder @ 5 Figure Coaching

My name is Chris Shipp, and I am the founder of 5 Figure Coaching, a business coaching service for personal trainers at client health coaches like you.

I want to congratulate you for taking ACTION on your goals and completing this guide. I hope it's going to help you grow your business and give you some quick wins!

Here's what I think like:

Wondering if what you are doing is the best thing for your business or if you are spending your money and missing your fundamental love and energy?

Trying to figure out how to reach clients who are top dollar, only with you forever, and become long-term clients?

The good news is if you put the ideas from this guide into action, I promise you you are going to generate clients.

But you might also find that you need extra help with the implementation.

I want to help you with that.
